

tower?

!wow

think this is an

P.O. Box 17969
Durham, NC 27715
USA

But let's review the report card for the DCRI:

We are affiliated with Duke, after all—one of the premier universities in the country. But that doesn't mean that we don't live in the real world. The Duke Clinical Research Institute (DCRI) is a full-service, real-world academic research organization, dedicated to designing and conducting high-quality, cost-effective clinical research projects. You may have heard that academic research groups are inefficient, impractical, or unresponsive.

Well, maybe.

Now, more than ever...

Duke Clinical Research Institute Report Card

Services

- Practical, real-world protocol design
- Rapid enrollment through our strong investigator networks
- State-of-the-art data management
- Sophisticated data analyses and modeling
- Experienced, clinically oriented project leadership
- Educational, promotional, and scientific communications

People

- Over 750 professionals focused on delivering results
- Researchers with daily, hands-on clinical experience
- International collaborative networks
- Global reputation for integrity, experience, and credibility

Capabilities

- Phase II through IV multicenter clinical trials
- Multiple therapeutic areas
- Medical device trials
- Economics and quality-of-life studies
- Specialized core laboratories
- Outcomes studies

Efficient. The DCRI seamlessly integrates first-class medical leadership with full-service operational capabilities. As a result, our projects are done on time and on budget.

Practical. DCRI researchers care for real patients in real hospitals, every day. This results in protocols designed to work in the real world.

Responsive. With more than 750 professionals serving the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and device industries, the DCRI responds quickly and flexibly to client needs.

To learn more about our services and capabilities, please contact the Strategic Business Development Department at the Duke Clinical Research Institute.

Phone: [toll-free] +1.877.693.DUKE (3853)
or +1.919.668.8108
P.O. Box 17969, Durham, NC 27715, USA
<http://dcri.mc.duke.edu/>

The Choice
Is AcademicSM